Mainframe Specific Definitions

PURPOSE: This document provides a list of words and definitions to clarify the mainframe-specific terminology contained within the State of Wyoming Policies and Standards.

I. APPLICABILITY

This policy applies to all Executive Branch agencies, boards, and commissions staff (collectively referred to as "agencies"). This policy is also applicable to consultants, affiliates, and temporary employees.

II. MAINFRAME SPECIFIC DEFINITIONS

A

- Agency Liaison: Designated mainframe security liaisons who manage mainframe access for personnel accessing their respective agencies' data.

E

- ETS Liaison: The designated mainframe security liaison at ETS. This person also manages access for agency liaisons.

F

- F541: Mainframe forms used to create, change, delete, and acknowledge mainframe user accounts.

- Invalid login actions/repercussions: See sections IV.I.1, Login Banner, and IV.L.3, Reviews for Detection of Unauthorized Access.

- ISV Software: Independent Software Vendor Software. Non-IBM systems software that supports mainframe operations.

M

- Mainframe security liaison: A person appointed by an agency director to perform mainframe security access duties, i.e., submit F541 forms for adding and user access and resetting passwords. In this document, mainframe security liaisons may also be referred to as security liaisons or liaisons.

- Message of the Day: This term is not used by this document. See section IV.I.1, Login Banner.

P

- Password requirements: Standards for password creation. (WyIT - 3024, Section XI)

R

- Resource Access Control Facility (RACF): IBM's mainframe security software.

- Remote access allowances: Who is allowed to access the mainframe remotely. (WyIT - 3024, Section VII)

S

- Session Lock requirements: Inactivity that locks a user's session. See section IV.G.2.

T

- Technical authentication process: How access permissions are determined. See sections IV.F.3, IV.G.1.a, IV.H.1

U

- Usage restrictions: See Session Lock requirements, section IV.G.2.
