FL [DIGITAL SERVICE]

Prohibited Applications on Government Devices List

April 30, 2026

The Department of Management Services, through the Florida Digital Service, has determined the following applications meet the criteria for prohibited applications established in section 112.22(1)(f), Florida Statutes. For waiver requests, please see Rule 60GG-2.008, Florida Administrative Code. If you have questions, please reach out to our team via email Policy@digital.fl.gov.

Application	Date Added to Prohibited Applications List
Kaspersky	February 12, 2024
QQ	February 12, 2024
TikTok	February 12, 2024
VKontakte	February 12, 2024
WeChat	February 12, 2024
AliExpress	October 21, 2024
AliPay	October 21, 2024
CamScanner	October 21, 2024
SHAREit	October 21, 2024
Temu	October 21, 2024
DeepSeek	January 30, 2025
Baidu Maps	April 22, 2025
Baidu Search	April 22, 2025
CapCut	April 22, 2025
Lemon8	April 22, 2025
Moomoo	April 22, 2025
Rednote	April 22, 2025
Tiger Brokers	April 22, 2025
UC Browser	April 22, 2025
VMate	April 22, 2025
WeBull	April 22, 2025
WeChat Pay	April 22, 2025
WPS Office	April 22, 2025
Xender	April 22, 2025
Gauth	January 29, 2026
Lark	January 29, 2026
AutoClaw	April 30, 2026
AutoGLM	April 30, 2026
Baidu App	April 30, 2026
Baixiaoying	April 30, 2026
iFlytek	April 30, 2026
Kapi Camera	April 30, 2026
Kimi	April 30, 2026
MiniMax Agent	April 30, 2026

Office Raccoon	April 30, 2026
SenseChat	April 30, 2026
Senselink Lite	April 30, 2026
Spark	April 30, 2026
StepFun: AI Assistant	April 30, 2026
Talkie	April 30, 2026
Z.AI\AI Agent App	April 30, 2026

For applications that are not on this list, public employers are required by section 112.22,(2)(a), F.S., to evaluate applications to determine if they meet the criteria for a "prohibited application" as defined in section 112.22(1)(f), F.S., and to comply with the requirements regarding such applications set forth therein.*

If a public employer has questions or recommendations for inclusion on the next quarterly publication of the Prohibited Applications on Government Devices List, please email the Florida Digital Service at Policy@digital.fl.gov.